

Welcome to UltraMarine

Greetings to you,
UltraMarine reader!

I left writing this intro until quite late this issue, and it's a good job I did! Normally, I'd be rambling about enjoying the weather and keeping your tank cool at this time of year, but early August seems pretty autumnal. We're already into the season of flooding, power-cuts and the nights will soon be drawing-in too.

Looking on the bright side, at least you won't be torn between your reef and going out to enjoy the sun! Instead, you can really start focussing on your tank again now and hopefully our material this issue will prove complimentary!
