

Welcome

to UltraMarine

Greetings to you, UltraMarine reader!

First of all I must apologise if you were expecting the Pax Bellum review this issue (as teased last issue). Unfortunately, I've not been able to add much stock to the new test tank due to the lockdown so I'm aiming to run this next issue. The good news is that I managed to acquire an Ultra Reef skimmer for review instead!

The lockdown is presenting a few challenges for the mag, as I am sure it is for many organisations and individuals alike. If anyone has had a slight delay getting set-up with subscriptions or obtaining copies, please accept our apologies. I believe the office is back up and running now so if anyone is still waiting, it shouldn't be long!

Stand out features in this issue for me are definitely John Allder's fish-only system which is our hobbyist feature this issue (I love reef systems of course, but I'm also a sucker for large reef fishes that often are incompatible with corals)... and if you are pining for a holiday like I am, check out Chris Sergeant's St Lucia piece to escape into the natural coral realm for while, even if it's just in your imagination.

John
